4 January 2021

Benito P. Atienza, MD
President
Philippine Medical Association

Dear Dr. Atienza,

Greetings!

The Philippine Heart Association (PHA) will conduct a course intended for the primary care physicians and will tackle various topics that are needed in their daily clinical practice.

Discussions will be comprehensive with emphasis on cardiovascular risk factors, coronary artery disease and heart failure, basics on cardiovascular imaging, ECG and arrhythmia recognition, as well as vascular emergencies, grown-up congenital, valvular diseases and respiratory diseases like asthma and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD).

This is a two-day (2) learning experience via Zoom platform, with combined didactic and interactive clinical case discussions. The target audience includes general medical practitioners, family medicine, internists, rural health medical officers and ER medicine specialists. Interested non-MD but medical-related professionals are also welcome.

It is hoped that this course will help everyone especially the front-liners prepare for the implementation of Universal Healthcare Law and consequently improve our collective response to the threat of non-communicable diseases (NCD). On behalf of the PHA Board, may I invite interested members of your society to attend the course. Certificate of attendance will be given to those who completed the course. The course will be conducted on the 26th and 27th of January 2021. Bookbind module is available at P500.

For further inquiries and clarifications, you may call the Secretariat at 8470-5525/84705528 and look for Ms. Irene Publico-Alejo.

We look forward to an exciting course and certainly, your participation will be instrumental to the success of this event.

Truly yours,

Ronald E. Cuyco, MD
